Learn more about Eagle's energy saving products

The Eagle Solar Roof, pictured below, is only one part of Eagle's comprehensive green building program. We also offer over 40 CoolRoof Tile products. Each of which has been approved by the Cool Roof Rating Council. We are currently submitting these products for Energy Star approval as well. The Eagle Energy Saving Roof is another energy conscious effort. The Energy Saving Roof is a method of ventilating the air space under the tile and is easily installed using just a few accessory products. Eagle's environmentally friendly initiatives don't stop with our products. We make sure that our manufacturing process is safe for the environment as well. Today, Eagle is leading the concrete tile industry in its recycling efforts.

Every customer is different. Every project is different. We understand. That's what makes us different.

In addition to our green building program, we also offer all of the products and services that you'd expect from Eagle. We are one of the only tile roofing manufacturers to provide our architectural customers with their own Service Representative. Our product selection is unrivaled. Our product durability and warranty are exactly what you'd expect from quality concrete roofing tile. And, our revamped web site includes the tools you need like hatch pattern photos for 3D rendering, downloadable high-res images and an updated CSI specification.
